

The Thomas Mills High School and Sixth Form Spanish curriculum marks the beginning of GCSE study and aims to equip students with the linguistic knowledge, cultural understanding and communication skills required for success at Key Stage 4 and beyond. Through the study of carefully sequenced topic-specific vocabulary linked to themes such as identity and relationships, free time, home, school and future aspirations, pupils develop the substantive knowledge needed to communicate effectively and confidently in Spanish. They also develop disciplinary knowledge through the key language skills of listening, speaking, reading and writing, supported by explicit teaching of phonics, pronunciation, translation skills and grammar.

The curriculum places a strong emphasis on secure foundations in phonics, vocabulary and grammar, enabling pupils to build upon prior learning and communicate with increasing accuracy and confidence. Pupils learn to understand and interpret increasingly complex spoken and written Spanish, apply a range of grammatical structures and time frames accurately, express and justify opinions, and communicate with increasing spontaneity and independence. The curriculum encourages students to develop a positive attitude towards language learning, recognise the importance of languages in the wider world, and communicate independently for authentic purposes on topics that are meaningful and relevant to them.

Through discussion, role-play, translation and practical language application, pupils broaden their horizons and deepen their understanding of the cultures and communities of the Spanish-speaking world. They are encouraged to make connections between Spanish and English, explore different perspectives, and develop the confidence to engage with unfamiliar language and ideas. This provides a strong linguistic and cultural foundation for further study at GCSE, A Level and beyond.

The following assessment objectives (AO) underpin pupils' progress towards success at GCSE Spanish (AQA 8692):

AO1 – Understanding and responding to spoken language

- Understand spoken Spanish.
- Respond appropriately to spoken Spanish in both speaking and writing.

AO2 – Understanding and responding to written language

- Understand written Spanish.
- Respond appropriately to written Spanish in both speaking and writing.

AO3 – Grammar and vocabulary
